A luxury vacation doesn't have to take a lifetime. A simple weekend away can take you from the daily grind to the daily unwind. Pack your bag with a few essentials, gas up the roadster and don't forget the Bubbly — two days is all it takes

MULHOLLAND

We at Kingdom have been exceptionally impressed by Mulholland, so much so that it was their perfect week-end away bags that inspired this feature. Started by the Mulholland Brothers 20 years ago, the company produce an exceptional range of leather and leather-trimmed luxury goods — all made without compromise.

Mulholland produce two specialised weekend bags — the Longhorn and Shorthorn — which differ only in their overall dimensions. We show here the Longhorn which is hungry for anything you can pack and easily has the capacity for a three-day weekend. Features include: a generous outside pocket front and center for anything you want quick access to, a pair of rolled leather handles and a detachable padded shoulder strap. ## FAIRWAY & GREENE

When cool descends in the evening there is nothing quite as reassuring as a cashmere sweater. For 2008, as part of their Stony Creek collection, Fairway & Greene have produced an expanded offering in luxurious 100% Italian Cashmere. Crafted entirely by hand, these garments feature the finest workmanship and attention to detail. We feature here a cashmere hand cabled quarter Zip — long sleeve pullover collared sweater.
